CHINESE FIGHT ON 4 FRONTS

Battle To Halt Most Ambitious Japanese Campaign in 7 Years of War.

By The Associated Press
China's armies fought desperately on four fronts today to halt the most ambitious Japanese offensive in seven years of fighting against the Chinese.

The gently rolling camp site produces inviting outdoor scenes such as the one above.

The house at the camp site, pictured above, will be replaced eventually, along with other buildings on the tract, but for the time being this building will be remodeled and used for camp headquarters.

Mrs. Fillmore Young To Present Deed for Tract in Ceremony Tuesday.

By EDNA DUTTON

Do dreams come true? Marion's 438 Girl Scouts, their leaders, council and committee members believe they do. A long-cherished desire to have their very own scout camp will become a reality when Mrs. Fillmore Young of 341 Mt. Vernon avenue formally presents the Girl Scouts with a deed to a 38-acre farm located 15 miles north of Marion, in Wyandot county, Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock.

The presentation ceremony will take place in the WMRN studio and will be broadcast. Mrs. Young is commissioner of the Girl Scouts, a voluntary service to the organization.

Acceptance of the gift will be made by representatives from the Girl Scouts. Paul Bachman will give a description of the camp. Miss Ruth Kleinmaier, chairman of the troop camp committee, will tell of the need for a camp and there will be short sketches depicting camp life.

The gift fulfills in a measure a desire of the donor and her late husband, Dr. Fillmore Young, for many years a leading physician here, to materially aid young people in the building of character, health and worthwhile living.

The camp will be known as the Florence Young Girl Scout Camp. The farm, formerly owned by the Kerr estate, includes part of an original grant from the government to the Lawrence family and the deed bears the signature of President Polk.

The large frame building includes a part of the original log cabin, occupied by the first settlers on the grant. Located in a wooded area a mile off of Route 23 and five miles from Upper Sandusky, the farm is a part of the glacial morain with ravines and a brook. Sixteen of the 38 acres are under cultivation at the present time.

While improvements and remodeling of the new camp will have to wait until after the country is out of war, the Scouts and their adult leaders and sponsors have an eye on the future and plans will be made to make the camp into one of the most desirable spots in the state.

Present the farm home and surroundings will be temporarily improved to accommodate the Scouts this summer and to meet with health requirements and conveniences. Present plans call for the setting up of a tent unit in the woods and to date cois and mattresses have been purchased and other facilities looking to a full summer's camping for the girls installed. ESTIMATE 4,200 U. S. PLANES HIT GERMANS

Targets in Austria and Poland Bombed by Giant Raiding Force.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, May 9—A thousand heavy American bombers and 1,200 fighters spanned the length of Germany today, bombing two aircraft factories in Poland and four in central and eastern Germany while other fleets struck from the south at the Vienna and Wiener Neustadt areas.

Early estimates indicated at least 4,200 planes had attacked the Germans from Britain and Italy.

The sky-darkening fleet equalled that of yesterday, which was the largest ever dispatched by the U. S. air force.

The Polish factories were at Poznan and Kresling. Those in Germany were at Leipzig, Tutow, Cottbus and Sorau. The flight to Poznan entailed a roundtrip of at least 1,450 miles.

Simultaneously, hundreds of lesser American bombers struck heavily and repeatedly at the French invasion coast, bombing bridges, railroads and airdromes.

Forces Are Split
The attacking forces and Liberators split into several spearheads in efforts to confound the enemy defenses. The German radio reported the fleets engaged in a number of sky battles.

Enemy broadcasts said another allied fleet was striking in the "lower Danube basin" from Italy.

The operations on this hot, summery day were in force comparable to yesterday's great outpouring when 6,000 bombers and fighters flew from British bases and 2,000 more struck from Italy, chiefly at the Italian battle area.

Kresling is five miles southeast of Poznan where the heavy bombers have battered aircraft factories before. Tutow also has been bombed before. Leipzig, Cottbus and Sorau all are in the very heart of central Germany between 100 and 130 miles south of Berlin. Poznan is 50 miles inside the Polish border.

Seven heavy bombers were forced to land in Sweden, Stockholm dispatches said.

Germany was on the alert almost continuously throughout the day. The "echting" warnings started clattering the enemy air waves a couple of hours after dawn and it was not until 4 p. m. that the enemy could assert that the raid was "clear of enemy planes." Then, an hour later, the networks warned of "single enemy raiders over southwest Germany."

Plant Near Vienna Hit
Between 500 and 750 Flying Fortresses and Liberators bombed an aircraft plant at Atzgersdorf, near Vienna; the Wiener Neustadt plant No. 1 and the nearby Nord and Wollersdorf airdromes.

Both the Wiener Neustadt airdromes normally are crowded with aircraft fresh from the assembly lines of the nearby Messerschmitt plants. First reports from Naples did not mention concentrations today.

Other Liberators from Italy bombed two German concentrations in Yugoslavia in support of Marshal Tito's peasant army.

It was reported officially in Naples that considerable numbers of enemy fighters were encountered over Austria, precipitating great sky battles. Convoys of German fighters tangled with the bulk of the German interceptors.

U. S. GOVERNORS IN CONFERENCE

President Sends Greeting to State Executives at Hershey, Pa.

By The Associated Press

HERSHEY, Pa., May 29—President Roosevelt congratulated the states of the nation today for quick mobilization of their resources "for effective unified action against the common enemy" and expressed confidence the problems ahead "will be met by the same cooperative spirit."

Governor Leverett Saltonstall (R) of Massachusetts, chairman of the national conference of governors, presented the President's message at the opening of the 36th annual meeting of Chief Executives.

"From my own personal experience in attending these conferences as governor of the state of New York," President Roosevelt said in his message, "I know the fine spirit of cooperation in which the conferences meet and also the practical results which can come from this kind of cooperative discussion among the several states."

Serve Nation in Peace, War
"Governors' conferences have led to a unity of purpose which has served our nation so well in peace, and which is serving with increased effect during these days of war. Within a comparatively short time since the attack upon us, the various states have been able to adjust their activities, convert their agencies and institutions and mobilize their resources for effective unified action against the common enemy."

"In anticipation of our inevitable victory, it becomes necessary for the states to make plans and programs and arrange their resources, so that they may continue, individually and collectively, to serve the public welfare, and provide the high standard of living which the physical and human assets of America are capable of producing."

"My congratulations to the governors to GOVERNORS, Page 16)

3 OF 18 NAZI DIVISIONS NOW ARE DESTROYED

15,000 Prisoners Also Taken Since Start of General Offensive May 1.

By The Associated Press

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NAPLES, May 29—Fifth army troops stormed toward four Rome-time strongholds against fierce resistance today, thrusting one wedge within 17 miles of the eternal city.

Headquarters declared three of 18 German divisions engaged in battle had been virtually destroyed in the broad offensive launched May 11, with more than 15,000 prisoners taken.

Overwhelming Aprilia, once bitterly-contested beachhead fortress, the Fifth punched north within a mile of Campobasso—the closest penetration toward Rome. To the east the Fifth army advanced within 2,000 yards of Valmontone, on the shell-torn Via Cassilina, despite flame-throwing German counter-assaults.

Steady artillery fire was pumped onto the Via Cassilina, main escape route for eight German divisions being forced back on the front to the southeast.

In between on the Campobasso-Valmontone line, other forces fought in the outskirts of Velletri on the Apennine way, and closed upon Lariano, four miles southwest, where the Albani hills begin to rise from the Pontine plain.

Americans Advance
"Despite several sharp German counterattacks, the Americans are advancing slowly in the direction of Rome," a battlefront dispatch from Associated Press Correspondent Edward Kennedy declared.

Meanwhile the Eighth army in the Liri and Sacco valleys to the southeast pushed ahead, breaking down German rear guard stands.

As the sound of the great battle rolled into Rome, the enemy in the mountains southeast of Valmontone was driven out of the towns of Sarnano and Bassano, below Borna, which was overwhelmed yesterday. Snipers still were active in the hills beyond this area and Fifth army patrols were mopping them up.

In its northward drive the Fifth army smashed across two of the bitterest battlegrounds of the beachhead fights of last February.

French forces meantime followed up their seizure of Villa Santo Stefano by taking off northward through the hills toward the Liri valley making only casual contact with the enemy and capturing Monte Sierro, 2,400 feet high.

On the heels of the capture yesterday of the important town of Caprano on highway six and the Liri river, Eighth army pushed west and north throwing rapidly across the Liri and Sacco rivers, where the enemy had blown up crossings. Lt. Gen. Sir Oliver Leese's troops swept westward six miles from Caprano to Fall.

Surround Monte Oreo
To the north, in the area of Arce at the junction of highways six and 82, they surrounded the towering Monte Oreo, dominating Arce and surrounded Santo Padre, four and a half miles northeast.

From the beachhead Fifth army troops met stubborn resistance every inch of the way in their drive to crack the Anzio-Albano highway, down which the Germans poured vicious attacks last February, and past the Aprilia highway and railroad and factory area, scene of much of the bloodiest fighting since the beachhead was established.

A prisoner of war said the Germans had used tanks as artillery in recent fighting.

Further Nazi reinforcements appeared, in addition to elements of the Hermann Goering 22nd division which until recently had been in a rest area north of Rome.

It was officially reported that the German 71st, 84th and 715th divisions already had been virtually destroyed out of the 18 divisions which the Germans had committed to the battle south of Rome.

The Fifth and Eighth armies have taken more than 15,000 prisoners in the present offensive.

For the second straight day the French navy supported the land offensive, one of its cruisers bombarding enemy artillery successfully north of Anzio, the allied communiqué said. An allied destroyer also shelled targets in the same area.

Bricker Calls on Candidates To Discuss Campaign Issues

By The Associated Press

HERSHEY, PA., May 29—Gov. Bricker of Ohio last night challenged presidential aspirants to come out in the open and discuss issues as Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York came closer than any time to saying he is a willing candidate for the Republican nomination for president.

Both are here attending the 36th governors' conference. Bricker, an avowed candidate for the G. O. P. presidential nomination, declared in a press conference:

"I think any candidate before the people in as critical an hour as this should discuss all the issues vital to his country and pertaining to the office he seeks."

Asked if he referred to Dewey, Bricker replied:

"It just happens I don't have the right to do the eliminating." Dewey told nearly 100 newsmen in an interview that he is doing nothing to discourage talk that he is leading in the pre-convention delegate contest, that this talk has "gone beyond the rumor stage," and he expects to have some suggestions for the Republican platform to be adopted at Chicago next month.

Tours Camp In Jeep
Earlier, while touring an army camp at Indiantown Gap in a jeep, Dewey was asked by a soldier:

"Governor, are you going to run for president in 1944 or 1947?" Dewey replied:

"I guess I don't have any control over that." While the New York chief executive said his position on the presidential candidacy question is unchanged, many reporters who attended a press conference at the governors' meeting in Columbus, O., last June recalled that Dewey associates defined his position then a little differently than did Dewey last night.

His associates said last year that anyone starting a movement in Dewey's behalf before the convention would "get a sock in the eye from Albany."

Bricker, who stands second to Dewey in pledged and claimed delegate strength to the convention, also took issue with Dewey's press conference statement at Mackinac Island last September favoring a continued military alliance with Great Britain.

Dewey said he agreed with Bricker that issues should be discussed to "a candidate about to be elected. When asked if that ap-

NEXT WINTER'S GAS SUPPLY READIED

Ohio Fuel Gas Co. Rushing Expanded Facilities.

Progress of the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. in securing a more adequate supply of gas for next winter to meet the increased demands of war industries, as well as domestic and commercial customers, has been announced by C. K. Sechrist, Marion manager of the company.

In sounding a more optimistic note for next winter than the last one, he warned that the supply of all fuels, including gas, likely still will be critical and advised that customers continue to conserve as much as possible in their uses of gas.

One of the chief hopes in securing an additional gas supply is based upon the fast progress which is being made in the construction of a new 1,263-mile line 24 inches in diameter, leading from fields in the vicinity of Corpus Christi, Tex., to points in West Virginia from which lines connect to the Ohio Fuel system. Delivery of materials to build pipeline and compressor stations is being made on schedule. This has been made possible by the "critical" rating which has been assigned to the project by the war production board—the same classification given to planes, landing barges and other most needed equipment of war.

While only 62 miles of the line have been completed, the months of open weather ahead will permit a very fast construction schedule. Some 21 crews will be engaged in building the line, alone. Others are ahead with the installation of river crossings and the building of seven compressor stations which will force the gas through the lines. By mid-fall it is hoped the line will be delivering some 40 million cubic feet of gas daily to the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. All of the gas will not represent net gain in supply, as the large amounts of West Virginia gas coming into the company's lines now will be reduced somewhat this fall to permit delivery to other important areas where shortages exist.

Baccalaureate Services Held for Harding High Graduates

Assurance of peace of mind through Christ was offered to the Harding High graduates attending the baccalaureate services held Sunday night at Epworth Methodist church. Parents, relatives and friends of students filled the church well before service time. The senior service was delivered by Rev. M. E. Hollensen, pastor of Emanuel Lutheran church.

Miss Mary Evangelina Lawrence, organist, presented a special offering of the following soloists: "The Star" (Singers); Theme from "Pavane" (Soloist); "Lament" (Soloist); "A Negro spiritual" (Soloist); "Maiden of Allentown" (Soloist); and "Theme and Variations" (Soloist).

The presentation of blue-ribbon seniors entered to "We March of the Patriots" by Mendelssohn, also played by Miss Lawrence. Rev. E. H. Worth, pastor of First Evangelical and Reformed church, gave the invocation.

"Create in Me a Clean Heart, O God," taken from the Psalm, was a musical setting by Mueller, set by the Harding High school, a cappella choir under the direction of L. G. Jones. Many members of the choir are in the graduating class and were dressed in their blue caps and gowns instead of the usual maroon robes of the choir. Undergraduate members were robed in maroon.

Scripture Lesson

The Scripture lesson was read by Rev. R. W. Faulkner, pastor of Calvary Evangelical church. The reading was taken from the sixth chapter of St. Matthew, the nineteenth to twenty-fourth verses. "Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break through and steal. But lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, for where your treasure is there will your heart be also."

Prayer was offered by Rev. E. M. Hertzler, pastor of the First Church of the Brethren.

Ohio is most fortunate in having geological structures in certain limited areas in which gas can be stored without losing it, the report stated. The program calls for 20 to 21 billion cubic feet of gas in storage by cold weather.

The company's own drilling program of 250 new wells this year is moving on schedule and this will be supplemented by the drilling of independent operators. Little, if any, of this Ohio gas represents a gain in supply. The new wells replace others whose supplies were exhausted during the last winter.

Another fact helping the gas situation is the war production board's order continuing certain large war industries on substitute fuels, saving about 16 million cubic feet a day. While this bolsters the gas supply it is at the expense of other critical fuels.

May has been a month of victories for American forces of World War II. In May, 1942, the Japanese fleet was beaten in the Coral Sea. A year later, Allied forces drove the Axis armies out of North Africa and the Japanese from Attu. Those victories meant casualties, but 97 out of every 100 men wounded in those actions were saved. You can help save the lives of men wounded in future actions by giving a pint of blood to the Red Cross. Telephone 2439 for an appointment today. Your blood can save a life!

Invasion Weapons Flying Fort

By The Associated Press

The chief daylight raider of the war is America's B-17 Flying Fortress which has been redesigned to carry upwards of 6,000 pounds of bombs and to meet mass fighter attacks.

Bristling with 13 .50 caliber guns, eight in mobile turrets, it has brought down hundreds of fast enemy fighters in combat. Crewmen in the most vulnerable positions wear bullet-proof armor.

The Fort's four 1,200-horsepower turbo supercharged motors drive the heavy war-plane—with its 9-to-11-man crew, bombs and equipment, it weighs about 60,000 pounds—at more than 300 miles per hour over a tactical radius of up to 700 miles. In action, the "Fort" has a tactical ceiling of 30,000 feet, well above the range of effective anti-aircraft fire.

(Wednesday—The B-24 Liberator)

Investment purchases of American life insurance companies were over $5,726,000,000 in 1943.

Suppose there were no tomorrow—

Suppose there were no tomorrow? . . . Think about it for just a minute . . . No tomorrow for you, or your kid sister at home—or the brother who left for the Army yesterday. Did you ever think that we, who have had so few yesterdays, may have no tomorrows?

It has happened, you know. To Jack Feldman, and Bob Ernest—and fifteen others who sat in our classes just last term . . .

They will have no tomorrows. They died before they ever had a try at living . . . so that we might have our chance.

There are millions who were asked to give up more than a double feature at the Earle . . . or a spiffy, new pair of pumps for next week's formal. A soda is a pretty insignificant sacrifice, when you think of—

The kids in Russia, who live on a few ounces of cereal a day. They've never seen an ice cream soda

The Polish boys and girls, who would be in school right now, just as we are . . . if there were any schools left.

The French youths who've never had a hamburger on a date—or any other time, for that matter. They are old, very old . . . older than you and I will ever be . . .

There are millions of them . . . in Norway . . . Holland . . . Denmark . . . Belgium . . . They would stare in amazement if they could be here to see—

A jalopy painted bright yellow. "The Tin You Love to Touch" printed in big, green letters on the back.

A high school senior, uncomfortable in his first tuxedo . . . calling for his date, looking nervous.

Millions of things that we take for granted . . .

"Hey, Maestro! Play 'Stardust'!"

. . . There is such a feeling of permanency in our tight little world. We'll go to school with the gang, today . . . and tomorrow . . .

But, WHAT IF THERE WERE NO TOMORROW? There's only one way to be sure, you know—

Buy War Bonds . . . That's a simple little phrase. It's the American way of saying what we mean in a few direct words. Buy War Bonds.

Yes—you and everybody must buy War Bonds. We've got to buy more and more, and more of 'em. Just get the idea into your head that your $18.75 might—just might end the war one-fifth of one second sooner. That maybe, in that one-fifth of a second, the boy next door could be on the receiving end of a bullet . . . Then you'll know it's worth it!

We've got to keep on plugging, saving, convincing. Giving our pin money . . .

Tell everybody—sell everybody! We can't take no for an answer . . . tomorrow—and tomorrow—and tomorrow.

Dewey Registers Increase in Poll of G.O.P. Voters

By GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion.

PRINCETON, N. J., May 23.—Governor Thomas E. Dewey's popularity as a presidential candidate among Republican voters polled from coast to coast by the Institute has gone up 10 percentage points in the past month.

Nearly two-thirds of all Republican voters say they would like to see him nominated at the convention which will begin late next month.

Here is the popular standing today of the Republican leaders whose names are most likely to be presented to the convention.

Thomas E. Dewey	55%
John W. Bricker	9
Harold E. Stassen	5
Earl Warren	2

Others, including Wendell Willkie and General Douglas MacArthur, receive a combined total of 19 per cent.

Governor Dewey has been the most popular choice of Republican voters for a considerable period of time. He was leading over all other rivals in Institute polls as far back as May, 1942. His popularity increased gradually until it reached 55 per cent last month, then spurted up to the present figure of 55 per cent.

If Dewey and Roosevelt are the opposing candidates this year, as most political observers seem to think, the race gives every evidence of being close.

Recent Institute surveys matching the two candidates show a slight advantage for Roosevelt—51 per cent, as against 49 per cent for Dewey. On the other hand, an analysis of eight special Congressional elections since last November gives the Republicans a slight advantage—51 per cent. The two taken together show an even race.

I remember when we took our basic training together. He was just a country kid, green as corn. He toughened up fast and became one of the best fighting men in our outfit. There was a girl. He gave her a ring just before we shipped overseas. He'd look at her picture a hundred times a day; on the troopship, in foxholes, in his tent before he fell asleep, in the hospital, when they tried to save his life. He carried his mother's picture too. She was a widow and he her only son. Too bad he couldn't get back for that wedding. It's going to be a sad Memorial Day for that girl and for his mother. Maybe if we all fight harder—and work harder—and buy more War Bonds, and hang on to them—maybe we can shorten the war enough to spare the lives of thousands of boys like my Buddy. I'm doing all I can—in his memory—are you with me, folks?

Almighty God, our heavenly Father, guide, we beseech thee, the nations of the world into the way of truth, and establish among them that peace which is the fruit of justice. Grant victory to the United Nations and, after victory, peace with order and justice to all the nations of the world.

We remember before thee on this Memorial Day all those men and women of our community who have given their lives in the service of our country, beseeching thee to grant them light and refreshment in thy divine presence.

Strengthen and protect all those who are serving in the Armed Forces and our country. Support them in the day of battle, and in time of peace keep them safe from all evil; endow them with courage and loyalty, and grant that in all things they may serve without reproach. Amen.

With everlasting gratitude to the men and women of our community, Protestants, Catholics and Jews alike, who made the supreme sacrifice and laid down their lives as true Americans so that we may all dwell together in peace and harmony.

Germans Showing Increased Tension Over D-Day Delay

LONDON, May 29 — German broadcasts reflected increased tension in Marshal Von Rundstedt's entire invasion front facing this troop-packed island today as temperatures over the glassy strait of Dover reached an unofficial 100 degrees shortly before noon.

Nazi commentators asserted that Gen. Eisenhower had missed one favorable invasion date when the tides and weather were perfect and cried out: Germany would prefer for the invasion to come today rather than tomorrow.

That suggested that enemy defenses at least once already had been brought to a nerve-wracking peak of alertness, only to find that Hitler's command had guessed wrong.

A Swiss newspaper, gave a new clue to the defense problem of Von Rundstedt, complicated by railroads tangled and snarled by protrusions of allied bombs. The newspaper said there was increasing fear of a general D-day strike of French railroad workers, and that the Nazis were sending in more key transportation officials and workers for key posts.

STRIKES

as the Chrysler pickets' demonstration had inflamed public opinion against the union. There were no pickets at plant gates this morning.

Referring to the Chrysler "rebellion," Thomas asserted in a statement that "our union cannot survive if the nation and our soldiers believe that we are obstructing the war effort."

William Jenkins, who was removed from office as president of local 490 after a previous strike at the Highland Park plant had made 11,700 employees idle in seven Chrysler plants, said the local had assumed from the international union that it would "do all in its power to bring about reinstatement of 16 discharged workers," who were fired two weeks ago for ejecting from the premises three company supervisors.

Germans Fight Desperately To Save Valmontone

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

German, held Valmontone, as the great Cassinia highway twenty miles southeast of Rome, was the outstanding strategic prize for which a furious battle was being fought today, as the allied offensive from the Anzio beachhead continued to surge forward.

But retention of Valmontone was a matter of death or capture for a host of their badly mauled troops which are falling back towards the eternal city from the shattered Adolf Hitler line. This town forms a barrier across via Cassinia (frequently referred to as route No. 6) which is the chief remaining avenue of escape for the retreating enemy since they lost the Apennine way to the south.

No wonder then that as dawn broke over the battle-field the Germans were counterattacking furiously from Valmontone with flame throwers in an effort to hold open this route for their comrades, and that Fifth army beachhead troops were driving straight through this hellish assault until they were close to the outskirts of the town. Valmontone decidedly was a point worth watching as a key to allied progress.

Via Cassinia isn't, of course, the only avenue of escape for Nazi Marshal Kesselring's retreating troops. About 25 miles along this highway to the south-east lies the big and also strategic town of Frosinone and from there another highway, and also a railroad, run a bit northward and then turn towards Rome above Via Cassinia. This Frosinone thoroughfare also divides after a bit, providing still another avenue which ultimately winds in towards Rome.

Thus the wily Kesselring won't be cut off even if he loses Via Cassinia. However, that is the chief avenue for withdrawal not only of troops but of mountains of equipment. So while he may be able to save many of his soldiers, he already has lost heavily through death and capture, and his losses in material already are grave.

Memorial Services Held by Navy Club

Families and friends of men who have given their lives, and those reported missing or prisoners of war in naval service, joined with the Marion Navy Club in an hour of prayer and memorial, Sunday, on the banks of the Forest Glen Memorial Park lake.

Rev. Garrison Rebeck of the First United Brethren church pronounced the invocation. A short talk was given by Chief John J. Dugan, officer in charge of the Marion Navy recruiting station, in which he expressed appreciation for the patriotic spirit of cooperation of the community and stated he was very proud of the record of fine service that boys of this community are rendering their country.

Chief Dugan introduced Mayor Harry L. Dowler, a naval veteran of World War I, as principal speaker. Mayor Dowler compared the naval service today and that of his day, and said our ultimate victory depends largely on the safe transportation of men, equipment, and supplies to the far-flung battle fronts. He read the 48th Psalm and suggested that our people also go to the Scripture for solace in these turbulent times.

Accorded selections, "America, the Beautiful" and "Faith of Our Fathers" were played by Mrs. Clyde Vance and Mrs. Raymond Donaghy.

Marion Bombardier Back From Two Years of Action in Pacific

Capt. Thomas Fetter, Holder of Two Distinguished Flying
Crosses and Other Awards, on 21-Day Leave.

Capt. Thomas Fetter, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Fetter of Carhart street, arrived home Thursday night after almost two years in active service, bearing a presidential group citation, two Distinguished Flying Crosses and an Asiatic-Pacific campaign ribbon with three bronze stars signifying action in the Solomon Islands, New Guinea and Papuan engagements.

A bombardier, stationed in New Guinea since April of last year, he is the oldest member in service of his squadron, the famed "Jolly Rogers," and has completed more than 50 missions. The first DFC was awarded in February for "operational flight missions from June 20, 1943 to December 1943." The presidential citation was made shortly after that time and the second DFC was awarded on March 7.

First DFC Award

Citation for the first award was for "extraordinary achievement while participating in aerial flights to the Southwest Pacific area. During this period these officers participated in sustained operational activity against the enemy during which hostile contact was probable and expected. These flights included long-range bombing missions against enemy airbases and installations, and attacks on enemy naval vessels and shipping. Throughout these operations outstanding courage, ability and devotion to duty were displayed."

The group citation was awarded to the unit following the period of engagement in Papua. Mr. and Mrs. Fetter had heard of the second DFC awards and learned it was presented after Capt. Fetter and a companion had dislodged bombs from their plane when the automatic release became jammed. A brief account of the action was carried by The Associated Press and printed in The Star last October.

Citation Tells Story

The complete story was told in the official citation which was "For extraordinary achievement while participating in an aerial flight over Rabaul, New Britain on Oct. 25, 1943. These crew members, flying the leading aircraft of a formation of six bombers, completed a daylight strike mission against Lakunai airfield. Due to bad weather, the fighter escort turned back before the target was sighted, but the bomber formation continued on its course. About 10 minutes before the target area was reached, the formation was intercepted by approximately 35 enemy fighters, which continued their attacks while the bombers were over the target and enroute back to the engagement lasting for 30 minutes. During the battle the nose gunner of the bomber destroyed one fighter, and altogether the formation destroyed 18 enemy airplanes. During the bombing run, their aircraft received a burst in the bomb bay knocking one fragmentation cluster completely off and damaging two others, also knocking three of the 20-pound bombs off another cluster and leaving the remaining three hanging loosely on the station.

"Capt. Fetter and the engineer wired the fuses together on the damaged bombs, then removed them and threw them out. The engineer stood on the catwalk and manually tripped the remaining stations with a screw driver while the bombardier opened and closed the doors from the front of the bomb bay."

On 21-Day Leave

Capt. Fetter landed in the states Saturday and was given a 21-day leave after which he will report to Atlantic City, N. J., for reassignment. Major D. J. Thornhill, commanding officer of the squadron, returned with him and will report to the same station. The young man spoke of meeting with Lt. Jack Markwith and Capt. Laflair fought both from Marion, while at Fort Morshey and later he ran into his roommate from Ohio Northern university.

GENTILE READY TO TRY LUCK AGAIN

NEW YORK, May 29 — "I'd like to get back to the big leagues and try my luck again," Capt. Don S. Gentile, Piqua, O., acc. asserted in a radio interview yesterday.

"And if I could have Johnny as my wingman," he continued, "that would be perfect."

Johnny is Capt. John Godfrey of Woonsocket, R. I., who was wing pilot to Gentile. Together the airman bagged a total of 38 enemy planes. Gentile scored 30 victories through the generosity of Major Brothers, owners, Mr. Axe said.

He said the Huber Mx. Co. is making possible the leasing and rolling of the field, and that it will be available for athletic activities in the near future. The field is one block square.

St. Mary squads last year practiced at Lincoln park after the construction of houses on the former Aronhalt lot did away with the site of the former practice field.
